FROM: 1,200+ Undersigned Fellow Alumni of Jesuit Universities and High Schools

DATE: July 9, 2014

Dear Representatives:

As fellow alumni of Jesuit educational institutions, we call on you, the members of the U.S. House of Representatives, to enact immigration reform that opens a process for earned citizenship for the undocumented, promotes business and innovation while respecting the rights of workers, preserves and protects family unity and human dignity, and restores fairness and accountability to our immigration system.

As you well know, Jesuit education stresses the ideal of being “men and women for others,” with a particular commitment to those who are most vulnerable. As someone who has answered the call to public service so admirably, you are uniquely positioned to make a profound impact on the common good because our broken immigration system is hurting us all.

A humane immigration reform policy would respond to the urgent needs of the most vulnerable in our society, the 11 million undocumented individuals currently living and working in the shadows of our communities. Likewise, immigration reform has the power to serve all U.S. citizens by growing our economy, strengthening our communities, and increasing safety and accountability at our borders.

In the Jesuit spirit of generous service to people in need and a persevering commitment to the common good, we call on you to seek comprehensive immigration reform without delay.
